Message from our President-Barry Winters of BBSI

HAPPY WEDNESDAY & WELCOME TO JUNE 2016.

WHAT !?! WE ARE IN THE 6TH MONTH OF THE YEAR?

With June here sadly there is “NO WEDNESDAY BUSINESS CONNECTION UNTIL 09/07/2016” Please visit Farmer’s Market in downtown Coos Bay on Wednesday’s from 9am –2pm. .

Even though May flew by, it was a busy month. Welcome MAY’S NEW BACC MEMBERS: A Right Mind Mental Wellness LLC, Cranberry Sweets And More, Top Dog Coffee Company, Coos Bay Chiropractic & Wellness Center, C.J. Huntsman, CPA P.C..

The Bay Area Chamber Ambassadors hosted 6 ribbon cuttings in May: The Artist Loft Gallery, Bank Of The Cascades, Coos Bay Chiropractic And Wellness Center, Coos Bay Children’s Academy, America’s Mattress, Top Dog Coffee Company.

Business After Hours, the 4th Thursday of the month, was Successfully held at The Painted Zebra in North Bend, thank you Stephanie, it was fun. Great food, prizes, drawings, lots of people.

The 27th class of Leadership Coos graduated 37 new Leaders into our community on May 10, 2016. Graduation was held at the Coos Bay Yacht Club, in Lakeside. It was exciting to attend. What an excellent graduation. If you have not signed up for the 28th Leadership Coos Class, do so immediately, spaces are filling up fast. Best thing you can do for yourself and your business. You will be amazed & will learn great things about our Bay Area, Coos County, & surrounding area.

The Festival of Sails was in town and stayed for a long week, entertained many locals & tourist, then sailed out. Next year will be the year of the Festival of Sails; Tom Leahy is working hard to bring in at least 7 or 8 Tall Ships to Coos Bay. Stayed tuned for more information.

Bay Area Chamber Board Member Jayson Wartnik led a large group of volunteers in an EXTREME MAKEOVER of Hillcrest School. What a terrific job they did. The community should be very proud of Jayson’s volunteers.

And speaking of volunteers, Chamber Board of Director Deborah Rudd organized the Bay Area Cleanup Brigade. Tons of trash were cleaned up for the start of Tourism Season. I hear that the Coos Bay Pirate Team won the trophy for the most trash cleaned up. WAY TO GO PIRATE TEAM, GREAT JOB. Some say the leader of the Pirate team was none other than Rick Skinner. Congrat’s to the Bull Dog & Laker Teams for providing tough competition.

Senator Ron Wyden was here at North Bend High School Friday the 27th with a town hall meeting. Boost Southwest Oregon was there supporting Jordan Cove Energy Project; a great group of North Bend students attended with great questions. Senator Wyden did a great job answering direct questions.

All right are we ready for JUNE 2016? YES we are. Should be an exciting month, Seniors graduating from all our local high schools & colleges.

Directors Quote

“Always go the extra mile, as it’s never crowded!”

Down to Business from SBDC by Arlene Soto

My business is being buried in paper, how long do I need to maintain business paperwork?

Business owners often find themselves keeping records for much longer than necessary. Once the year-end tax return is done many records are stored then never looked at again until the boxes take over all the storage space.

Tax professionals, accountants, organizers (see NAPO, National Association of Professional Organizers for listings of professional organizers) and financial advisors are a good source of information regarding how long to maintain specific business records. For general guidelines on records retention go to "The Record Retention Guide" at <http://www.cpa.net/resources/retengde.pdf>. IRS Publication 552 "Record Keeping for Individuals" and IRS Publication 583 "Starting a Business and Keeping Records" are available at www.irs.gov.

Many records must be kept permanently such as year end financial statements, articles of incorporation, bylaws, stock records, pension records, contracts, leases, tax returns, deeds/titles, general ledgers and more. Some records should be maintained ten years such as accounting journals and worker's compensation reports. Other records should be maintained seven years such as accident reports, sales records including sales tax reports, payroll tax returns and W-2 forms. Invoices and equipment leases should be maintained five years after they expire. General correspondence, expired insurance policies and employment applications should be maintained for three years.

Records that can be destroyed at the same time should be stored together to make it easier. Boxes should be labeled with the contents, date stored and the date the contents can be destroyed. If you have any doubts about destroying a particular document it's best to ask your accountant how long to keep it. Some records such as records about environmental hazards on your property may have legal ramifications so talk with an attorney before destroying those. Identity theft is another issue to consider with records storage. New guidelines are available to protect employee social security numbers from those who should not have access to them.

Technology may be another option for document storage if you don't have enough physical space. Talk to your accountant about what options are available and acceptable for long term record storage.

What's Going on With our LAT Committee!?!

The LAT met 5/17/16 and discussed the following issues;

- Our recent visit with Senator Arnie Roblan, where we learned about the support he is giving our area.
- The presentation of a concern from the Confederated Tribes regarding the LNG facility and pipeline development in relationship to possible tribal artifact disturbance.
- The extensive process of developing a Transportation package to resolve current and future road infrastructure issues. We saw examples from ODOT staff of packages for $300 million, $600 million and $900 million, what fee changes they would involve and their potential impact on Oregon's roads.
- The follow up on the new minimum wage law concerning the need for a training/entry wage.
- The process that the City of Coos Bay and other VCB members are following to develop a new agreement, addressing all the defined issues and needs in relation to the CB NB Visitors Convention Bureau operation.

With the local, county and state general elections coming up this fall, the LAT highly recommends your participation in both BACC team meetings and City Council regular sessions in Coos Bay and North Bend to stay in focus with developing changes.
